Joshua Pack, Butte County, Chair

9:20 a.m. II. Strengthening Partnerships: Understand the Challenges Facing the Private Sector
Local agencies across California face unprecedented challenges in recruiting and retaining the talent necessary to address critical infrastructure needs. Combined with the ongoing infrastructure risks resulting from severe weather events, decades of deferred maintenance, and insufficient funding, we increasingly rely on our private sector partners to help us deliver essential projects. To foster a more collaborative and efficient partnership, we have invited several private engineering consultants to join us for a candid discussion on the industry's challenges and opportunities. We also welcome collaborative discussions from other public and private sector partners as part of these discussions. By sharing insights and perspectives, we aim to strengthen our relationship, improve project delivery, and build a more resilient infrastructure for our communities.

Matt Griggs, Vice President, Dokken Engineering

Jason Jurrens, District Manager, California Transportation, Consor Engineering

Michael Leacox, Vice President, NCE Engineering & Environmental Services
